Dear Mr. Crump:

It was a pleasure to meet with Messrs. Tom Fleming, President, UPI Education, and Walter Lockett, Vice President of Community Relations, Unilever, Inc. in my office last week. The discussion made my day. Mr. Fleming did an excellent job describing the UPI Education Life Skills Solutions curriculum, its mission, goals, and objectives.

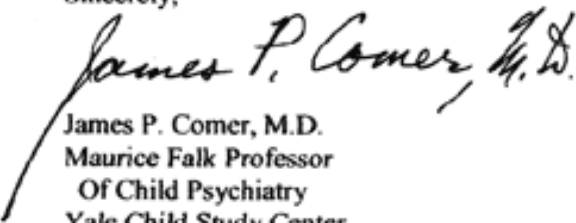

I applaud the ideas of UPI Education, as I also believe that it is very necessary for school students to be taught the everyday skills of life and society, in addition to reading, writing, and arithmetic. Students must understand and develop the tools necessary for survival and success. Further, I strongly believe that this process should begin at the pre-elementary and elementary school levels, as is the case with UPI Education.

Over the past thirty-five years, I have spoken often of the need for a plan like UPI Education; the need for something to complement our traditional curriculum and instruction focus. Your insight, thoughtful organization, concepts, and the elements of your curriculum, coupled with the team concept, which combines the efforts of business, government, educational bodies, and organizations, is masterful.

I was honored to serve on your UPI Advisory Board over twenty years ago; and I am equally honored to do so at this time. I believe that your program will offer a consistent link between our educational systems, and as you have stated, "the ability of our youth to receive core basic values that contribute to successful life navigation".

I look forward to working with you on this worthwhile endeavor.

Sincerely,

James P. Comer, M.D.
